1. Key Insights

- Regional Performance: The West region leads in total sales, contributing approx. 27% of overall revenue. The South region shows the lowest revenue share (~22%), indicating a growth opportunity.
- Top Products: Laptops are the highest-revenue product (~■23L), followed by Phones (~■18L) and Monitors (~■15L). Accessories (Keyboard, Mouse) show high volume but lower absolute revenue.
- Profit Margin Analysis: Average gross profit margin stands at 34%. Laptops and Phones deliver strong margins (~27–28%). Accessories deliver lower per-unit profit but consistent demand.
- Monthly Sales Trend: Sales exhibit month-on-month fluctuations. A clear upward trend is visible in Q3 (Jul–Sep), suggesting seasonal demand. Q1 records relatively lower revenue.
- Category Breakdown: Electronics category drives ~70% of total revenue while Accessories contribute ~30%. Office category (Printers) remains underperforming compared to its potential.

3. Business Recommendations

Invest in South Region	Deploy targeted marketing campaigns and offer region-specific discounts to boost South region sales by at least 15% in the next quarter.
Double Down on Laptops & Phones	Allocate higher inventory and promotional budgets to the Electronics category, especially Laptops and Phones, which demonstrate both high revenue and healthy margins.
Boost Accessories Bundle Strategy	Bundle Keyboards, Mice, and Headphones with Laptop/Monitor purchases to increase average order value and move more accessory inventory.
Q3 Peak Preparation	Plan inventory stockpiling and staffing ramp-up before July to capitalize on the Q3 seasonal demand surge observed in sales data.
Revitalize Office Category	Run targeted B2B campaigns for Printers aimed at small businesses and offices — this segment is currently underutilized relative to its addressable market.
Monthly KPI Reviews	Establish a monthly dashboard review cadence with regional managers to track MoM growth, identify lagging regions early, and take corrective action quickly.
